UM FACULTY MEMBER,
TWO FORMER STUDENTS
WRITE NEW YORKER POETRY

MISSOULA---

A University of Montana faculty member and two of his former students are authors of three poems printed in the Oct. 10 issue of the weekly magazine, "The New Yorker."

Each of the poems has the same title, "The Only Bar in Dixon," referring to an establishment in Dixon, Mont. They appear on page 48 of the magazine.

The authors include Richard F. Hugo, a well known Montana poet and an associate professor of English on leave from the UM campus during the 1970-71 academic year.

The other two poets and former students of Hugo are J. D. Reed, now of Gloucester, Mass., who received his Master of Fine Arts degree in creative writing at the University this year, and James Welch, Missoula, who is a graduate student in creative writing at UM.

Hugo will be involved in the University of Iowa Writers Workshop at Iowa City during the 1970-71 academic year.
